Chronicles of Society Folk

Miss Blanche Soper invited a party of friends to meet Mrs. Renton-Hind and Miss Estelle. This party was very informal, as almost all parties have been during the Lenten season. The guests chatted pleasantly and the afternoon passed all too quickly. Delicious refreshments were served. Miss Soper's guests were Mrs. Renton-Hind, Miss Estelle, for whom this afternoon of pleasure was arranged; Mrs. Macdonald, Mrs. C. Stackable, Mrs. Ebon Lee, Mrs. William H. Soper, Mrs. Hansen, Mrs. Withington, Miss Ward, Miss Annie Ward and Mrs. Oswald A. Stearns.

The College Club met on Wednesday afternoon at the Colonial Hotel. A large number of people were in attendance, one of the attractions being the fact that Bishop Bashford would make an address. His subject was "The Awakening of China," and with his knowledge of the people and conditions no one could put the situation more clearly or concisely. Bishop Bashford spoke of the willingness of the Chinese as a people for progress and education. Much is being done for the advancement but spiritually and temporally without a doubt in three generations such strides toward its betterment will be taken as to furnish the people of Europe and America.

By Miss Wilhelmina Tenney and Mr. George Winder, left on Thursday's steamer for a short trip to Maui to visit the tomb of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. James Makoe. This trip is taken annually by some member of the Makoe family to see that the place is well cared for. Mr. and Mrs. Makoe were pioneers in this country and Wilhelmina used to be one of the show places in the islands. The homestead was a delightful shelter to the wayfarer and the genial hospitality and cordial welcome of this delightful family is a pleasant memory to many.

The most sincere and loving sympathy is felt for Mr. Clarence Olson in the sudden death of his dearly loved wife. Mrs. Olson was a woman of most fascinating and attractive manner, with a disposition that was truly lovely. She was a veritable sunbeam, and Mr. Olson is not alone in his awful loss, as all who know this dear little woman, loved her. It will be a long time before her friends can think of her without a feeling of tenderness and a wave of pity for her bereaved husband.

Mr. Raphael Well, owner of the famous "White House" of San Francisco, also a famous Bohemian, with Mr. Frank Unger, who is so well known to the older townspeople, Dr. Atkinson and Mr. A. G. Hawes Sr., were arrivals on the steamer Manchuia on a round-the-world trip. These four gentlemen are close and intimate friends of both Mr. and Mrs. A. G. Hawes, Sr., and Mr. Francis M. Hatch. As neither of these men are here at present, Mr. A. G. Hawes, Jr., and Mr. James Wilder acted as hosts. A right royal welcome was given the travelers and a delightful day was spent here. A luncheon was served at San Souci, which was a jolly affair.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Lewers, who are lovingly known to such a wide circle of friends as Uncle Robert and Aunt Kate, left for San Francisco on the Wilhelmina for a three months' visit. The kindest of thoughts and the very best of good wishes for a delightful visit go with them. Mr. and Mrs. Lewers are to be with their son, Mr. William Lewers, for a couple of months.

Captain and Mrs. Putnam leave on Wednesday of next week for their new home at Leavenworth. Mrs. Putnam goes directly to her home in Boston to visit with relatives, and Captain Putnam will also visit in Boston for a short while before going to his new post.

Mrs. Calhoun, wife of Captain Calhoun, and her sister, Miss Anderson, who have been guests of the Donna for the past four months, left on the Mongolia. In case the U. S. S. Maryland is ordered back to Honolulu, these two delightful women will return. They had many friends in town who made their stay pleasant.

Mr. James L. Stack, who purchased the Arthur Wilder Waikiki home, and who has remodeled and decorated the home, was a departing passenger on the steamer Wilhelmina for the mainland. Mr. Stack plans to summer in the mountains on the east coast and later on go to Europe, where he will spend several months in traveling, after which he will return to his adopted home at Waikiki.

Mrs. Charles F. Wood will return to Honolulu on the steamer arriving on the tenth of April. Mr. and Mrs. Wood, with their charming daughter, Miss Dorothy, came to Honolulu for has not been well, hence thought of leaving here.

Charles Atherton left on the Wilhelmina on his way to New York to join Mrs. Atherton and the two daughters, Miss Violette and Miss Juliet. After a few weeks the Athertons will come home to prepare for the wedding that is to take place in their home when Miss Atherton and Mr. Guard will be married.

Among the departing passengers on the Manchuria was Mrs. Wade, wife of Lieutenant Wade, who goes to the Orient to join her husband, who is with the Pacific fleet now on the Asiatic station.

Mr. and Mrs. R. T. Guard started for their six months' tour of Europe on Wednesday's steamer.

Mr. Bruce Cartwright, who has been ill with rheumatic fever at the Hotel Sutter in San Francisco, has moved to Byron Hot Springs in the hope that the treatment will be beneficial. Mr. Cartwright's many friends hope for his speedy recovery.

Mr. and Mrs. Johnstone of Fort Shafter are guests of the Palace and are being entertained most extensively by their large circle of friends. Mrs. Johnstone is related to one of San Francisco's most aristocratic families and every one is vying in entertainment for this delightful and charming couple.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles C. Kennedy, who are the leaders in the social as well as financial Hilo world, were weekend guests at the Volcano House and having in their party Dr. and Mrs. Harold Elliott of Hilo.

Mr. and Mrs. Alvah Scott have as their house guest Miss Edna Curila of Kentistown, Hawaii.

Professor and Mrs. Pereira are guests of the Colonial Hotel during their engagement in Honolulu.

Dr. Ramus, much to the sorrow of his large circle of friends, will leave Honolulu about the first week in April. Everyone hopes that he will soon come back.

Miss Alice Cooper is in the Queen's Hospital convalescing from an operation for appendicitis, for which she was operated on Friday of this week.

Captain and Mrs. Arthur Marx and Miss Kathryn Stevens were the house guests of Mr. and Mrs. Carey Friedlander during their short stay in San Francisco.

Admiral and Mrs. Chance Thomas are stopping in San Francisco for a few weeks before proceeding to their future home in Washington. They were the guests of the Hotel Victoria, which is frequented by the people in the service circle.

Mr. Gustav Schaefer, who is just recovering from an appendicitis operation, is still confined to his home, but hopes to be at his office shortly.

Miss Crandall of the Punahou College teaching faculty, is quite ill, suffering a nervous breakdown. Miss Daisy Dietz is substituting for Miss Crandall, who has gone to Wahiawa to recuperate.

Captain C. W. Waller of the ordnance department, U. S. A., left on the Wilhelmina for the coast to return to his post at Benicia Arsenal, California. Captain Waller came to Honolulu to test the mortar batteries at Fort Ruger and while he was in Honolulu was the guest of the officers at Fort Ruger.

A large number of island tourists are gradually wending their way homeward. Many of them are coming to spend next winter here.

Mrs. Arthur G. Smith's mother, Mrs. William Pitt Fossenden, was an arrival on Wednesday's Manchuria for a visit of several months in Honolulu. Mrs. Fossenden is a Bostonian.

Mr. James McNerny left Honolulu on the Manchuria for three months in the Orient. Mr. McNerny waited for the Manchuria, as he and Captain Nixon are old friends. Mr. McNerny plans to visit the Philippine Islands during his trip.

Mr. and Mrs. John McCandless have moved into their new home on Thurston avenue. Mr. and Mrs. Kuamp will live at the Moana until the summer, when they will move out to Kalahele.

Mrs. Ross Kingsbury will entertain the Thursday Luncheon Club on that day of next week.

Mrs. Augustus Murphy, who is chairman of the Punahou Chapel fund fair, asks the heads of the different booths to attend a business meeting on Monday morning at her home on Victoria street.

Mrs. Samuel Wilder King leaves on the Chiyo Maru to join her husband on the U. S. S. Dakota.

Mrs. Charles H. Raven and her three little children were homecoming passengers on the Manchuria. Mrs. Raven has spent the last six months visiting friends and relatives on the Pacific Coast.

Captain Robert McCleave of the Second Infantry is relieved from his present duty as Inspector-Instructor of the organized militia of Iowa, to take effect September 1st, and will then join his regiment at Schofield Barracks.

There is quite a stir in social circles owing to the thought that a part of the Atlantic fleet might be stationed here instead of on the coast as this is a much nearer port. It will certainly make the young girls very happy to have the ships stationed here.

Lady Heron and Helen Stanley were departing passengers on the Zealandia this week. Lady Heron goes to Ireland in the interests of her estate, and Helen Stanley goes to school. Lady Heron will be absent for a year or more.

Mr. Alexander Lindsay, after a pleasant visit with his son, Judge Lindsay, left for Scotland on the Zealandia.

Colonel and Mrs. Brown leave Honolulu on Sunday for their home in the east after having spent a delightful few months in this city with their daughter and son, Captain and Mrs. Turner of Kamehameha schools.

Mrs. Chester Wells' sister is her guest at Arcadia.

Mrs. Fabrigat, wife of one of the naval officers, was a departing passenger on the steamer Wilhelmina after a very pleasant visit in Honolulu.

Capt. Hamman is the officer who succeeds Captain Putnam at Fort de Russy.

Mr. and Mrs. Maudie Phillips, with little Eloise and Margaret and Mrs. Meyers, have gone to Kahala to spend the Easter vacation.

Mrs. Alexander Lanarch is giving a series of teas in honor of her sister-in-law, Mrs. Antonio Perry.

Mr. and Mrs. Alexander Robertson made the round-the-island trip on Sunday and had as their guests Mr. and Mrs. William T. Robinson of Malibu. The party lunched at Haleiwa Hotel.

Mrs. Sara Newcomb and her brother, Mr. E. A. P. Newcomb, were the honored dinner guests of Captain and Mrs. Edwards at their home on Keaumoku street. The table was most attractive with white field daisies and ferns. Mr. Birlow was also of the party.

Mrs. William Williamson had a table of bridge on Wednesday afternoon when five of her friends came informally to spend the afternoon, and a most pleasant and enjoyable time was had. Mrs. Williamson's friends were Mrs. James Dougherty, Miss Irene Dickson, Mrs. J. Morton Riggs, Mrs. J. F. Hagens and others.

PERSONALS.
Miss Charlotte Dodge was an informal tea hostess on Thursday of this week. These delightful affairs are given monthly by the different teachers and are a real treat.

Mrs. D. G. May, who has been so seriously ill, is convalescent and has been moved to the Waihana and is now able to see her friends.

Mrs. Davis, the charming wife of General Davis, is very seriously ill at her home and grave doubts are expressed for her recovery.

Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Brown and Miss Helen Brown have moved into their new home on Green street.

Mrs. de Wolf is booked to leave here on the 12th of April. Mrs. de Wolf is the mother of Mrs. Lyser.

Mrs. E. J. Walker will have as her house guest during the Easter vacation Misses Carol and Clorinda Low.

Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Steere, after a long stay at the beach, have moved into their Manoa home.

Mrs. Alexander Lindsay, who underwent a severe operation at the hospital this week, is convalescent, to the joy of a large circle of friends.

Mr. and Mrs. Malcolm McIntyre have gone to the Peninsula for a couple of months occupying the Hall home, called "Hale Avenue." There is no more delightful place at the Peninsula than this spot.

Mrs. Chester Wells gave a small and informal tea for a few friends on Thursday afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. Alexander Gilchrist Hawes, after a most delightful two months in Honolulu, leave for home next Friday, much to the regret of their very large circle of friends, who wish they might stay for all time.

UTAH MAN NAMED FOR TURKEY.

SALT LAKE CITY, Utah, Mar. 5.—Alfred S. Northrup, who for the past few months has held the position of chief naturalization examiner, in the government service, at Salt Lake, was notified recently that President Taft had sent him to the Senate for confirmation as the appointee to the consular position at Trebizond, Turkey.

Joseph Madary, member of the Hungarian Parliament, is the oldest member of parliament in the world. He is 98 years old and takes an active interest in his party's affairs. He says that he means to hold his seat until he is 100 years old.

JAPANESE OPEN COMMERCIAL MUSEUM

Urging upon the directors of the Japanese Commercial Museum the importance of ever perpetuating the commercial interests between the merchants of the United States and Japan, Japanese Consul General Senichi Uyeno officially opened the exhibit rooms of the museum to the public at 2 o'clock this afternoon. The museum is on the ground floor of the Japanese Consulate on Port and Beretania streets.

Preceding the opening of the museum, appropriate ceremonies were held in the presence of the directors and a few friends. Secretary H. P. Wood of the Hawaii Promotion Committee, whom the Japanese call the "Father of Promotion Work in Hawaii," was present by invitation.

The ceremonies were under the personal supervision of Mr. Y. Akikuni, secretary-director of the museum.

Consul General Uyeno, it will be remembered, was instrumental in promoting this good work in Honolulu. Through his courtesy, the ground floor of the Consulate was given over to the exclusive use of the directors of the museum.

The exhibits include a variety of Japanese articles and general merchandise, which are commonly in use. It is the intention of the directors to place them on exhibition, so that those desiring to get information regarding prices and quality can obtain them here in Honolulu.

Consul General Uyeno has written to all the commercial bodies in the United States to furnish him with the latest reports regarding the commercial museums there. He expects to get this in the near future.

It is the intention of the directors to maintain an information bureau in connection with the museum work. The exhibits now arranged, though not many, are among the best that could be obtained in Japan. There are some fine silk fans, kimonos and other attractive things on exhibition. After the ceremonies, refreshments were served the guests. The museum will be opened to public inspection on and from April 1.

HOWARD GOULD'S WIFE ILL; HE LOVES ACTRESS

PARIS, France, March 15. — It is reported here tonight that Katherine Clemons Gould, wife of Howard Gould, is very ill in Spain, and it is feared that she may not recover.

It is reported here that Howard Gould is infatuated with another actress, Miss Kathryn Hutchison of Boston, a stunning brunette.

Knowing her husband's partiality for her Boston rival, Mrs. Gould has persistently refused to listen to any divorce proposal.

Howard Gould and the Boston beauty have been seen frequently together but were always accompanied by a chaperon. Last year they took a place in Scotland, where the chaperon was greatly in evidence, and also after they came to Paris. They lived at 36 Rue de Valenciennes, but had separate apartments.

They rarely, if ever, frequented public restaurants, but otherwise seemed to make no secret of their attachment. Gould declaring to many friends his intention to marry at the earliest possible moment.

Apes do not count further than four, and the Boers of the Transvaal, when they want to hunt these animals, hide in numbers exceeding four. Four de part in succession in such manner as to be noticed by the apes, who then come forth and are easily captured.

MRS. PERCY CLEGHORN'S SISTER MARRIED SUDDENLY

SAN FRANCISCO, Cal., March 15. San Francisco's younger society set will be interested and charmed to learn that the fascinating Lynette Hough, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Hough of Stockton and sister of Mrs. Percy Cleghorn of Honolulu, was quietly married in San Rafael on Monday to Joseph H. Henry, son of G. H. Henry, wealthy land-owner of Templeton and Atascadero.

The engagement of the young couple attracted much attention when it was announced at the wedding a year ago of Percy Cleghorn and the handsome Helen Hough. The younger set had been looking forward eagerly to the elaborate church wedding that had been planned when young Henry was to claim Lynette Hough as his bride. When their engagement was announced a year ago, the parents of Miss Hough said that she was too young to be married and induced her to wait until she was 21.

Miss Hough recently came with her mother to San Francisco and stopped with her at the Hotel Victoria. Henry was a frequent caller upon his fiancée, and they both concluded that there would be no occasion to have them defer their wedding until Miss Hough was 21—a year hence.

Mrs. Hough finally was won over by the young people and she consented to their marriage. Instead of the brilliant church wedding that had been planned, Henry and Miss Hough slipped quietly over to San Rafael on Monday and were married by the Rev. G. M. Cutting of St. Paul's Episcopal Church. George W. Presley, San Francisco attorney and former Stanford football coach, was best man.

Henry is a Stanford graduate and a Greek letter man, having been active in the Zeta Psi fraternity. His wealthy father is well known throughout the State.

An extensive ranch at Atascadero is part of the estate of the Henrys and was offered recently to the Government as a maneuver field for troops.

The father of Henry's bride, J. H. Hough, is president of the First National Bank of Stockton.
